FINDING WILLIAM MILLER IN WASHTENAW COUNTY WAS JUST THE BEGINNING OF MY ANCESTOR DISCOVERIES!

By Gretchen Collins Campbell

When you wait to begin your research until most of your family is dead and your two remaining aunts are in their nineties, you really can't expect too much! I knew very little about my Miller family when I retired in 1995 and finally had the time to start investigating. I did know that my great-grandfather, William Miller, was born in Michigan in 1845 and that he had a twin brother. His son Charlie Miller, my grandfather, was born in Kansas and moved west to Oregon with his parents, William and Martha Miller. That was all I knew—then.

What I didn't know was that "it takes a village" to really grow your tree. I didn't realize just how big my village really was! And, more than that—how many 'villagers' were doing research on our Miller family. I doubt that Johan Sebastian Miller ever thought that eight generations later a seventy-plus-year-old lady would be looking back to re-create this Miller family's life and ancestor chain.

Where to begin . . . Who were Great-Grandfather William Miller's parents?

My first search was for William's death certificate. I knew he died in Oregon before 1917 when my great-grandmother Martha Miller died, but there wasn't a William Miller listed in the Oregon Death Index that fit that time frame. I began searching cemeteries and found Martha buried in the Oswego Pioneer Cemetery in Lake Oswego, Oregon. William was buried next to her and the burial records indicated that William died in November 1915. With that information, I ordered his death certificate. When it arrived I learned that his parents were George and Margaret (Tuomy) Miller. They were my great-great-grandparents!

Next, I began forty mile research trips to the National Archives in Seattle to study the 1850 United States census records for Michigan. This was "pre-internet" and I often had to wait in line for a microfilm reader. I was looking for an entry for a William Miller born in 1845, who had a twin brother, and parents named George and Margaret. There were more than thirty rolls of film to review and finally, on the thirty-fourth roll, I found William and the rest of his family in Superior Township in Washtenaw County.

1850 United States Census¹

Name	Age	Occupation	Place of Birth
George Miller	28	Farmer	New York
Margaret "	27		Ireland
John "	5		Mich.
William "	5		Mich.
Mary "	4		Mich.
Ann Ellen "	5/12		Mich.
Margaret B. "	13		Mich.
Mary Tuemy [sic]	48		Mich.

You can't imagine how thrilled I was to find them! I finally had a family to research! When I located George and Margaret in later census records, I discovered they had three additional children: George T., Henry, and Anna.

I knew that I would have to research all the family members to generate more useful family information and possibly a living relative. First I wrote to the Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County (GSWC) to see how they could help me. They were a gold mine of information. They sent me a variety of very helpful documents and hints. It was amazing how much family information I received from this one request. Now I was able to climb up my family tree from my newly discovered great-great-grandfather George Miller to his parents, John and Margaret Barbara (Stuck) Miller, then through two generations of George Jacob Millers, and finally to my 6th great-grandfather Johan Sebastian Miller who came from Germany to Eastern Pennsylvania in 1744.

Included in the material the GSWC sent me, I found out my 3rd great-grandfather, John F. Miller, was born in 1797 in Northampton County, Pennsylvania. In 1815 he moved with his parents to Seneca County, New York and about three years later he married Margaret Barbara Stuck.

John and Margaret left New York in 1835, and moved to Ypsilanti Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan where they continued to raise their family. John F. Miller died in 1862, and in his will he remembered his son, my great-great-grandfather, George S., with a bequest of $50.

Along with the original research materials they sent me, the GSWC told me about Pat Gracie who "might" be researching the same family. One night I sent an email to her, and the next time I turned on my computer I found a reply from her that included twelve pages of research. I had a new cousin and a great friend! Sadly, Pat has passed away but she left her research to her son who is carrying on the legacy.

The GSWC Surname List was another great resource. I wrote a letter to all the members who were researching the surname Miller and found Keith Miller who had been researching the family for years and had even written a book! (Sadly he too has now passed.) This contact lead to another great friendship, more research, and a book with many, many names. I made a visit to Grand Rapids, Michigan and was able to connect with Keith and his wife, Irene. We had a great visit and he clearly told me "well, you don't look like a Miller!" Well, I may not look like one but I AM one!

In early 2000, I made a trip to Ann Arbor just to see where my family had lived. I visited libraries, home sites, and cemeteries. I wanted to see the land and the area where my ancestors had lived and farmed. That visit cleared my vision and I finally saw where some of my roots began.

As I continued my research, census records showed that Margaret (Tuomy) Miller spent less and less time with her husband, George S. Miller. She lived with her children in Kansas, her brother Cornelius Tuomy in Ann Arbor, and lastly with her son Henry in Northfield Township, but George was not listed with her in these censuses. A friend suggested that I look for a death record or divorce or other court records that might explain George's disappearance. In my search through the court records, I found several incidents where Margaret had filed suit against George for indecent liberties, or for taking property that had been left to Margaret. One record referenced a divorce, but no final divorce was recorded.

So, what happened to my great-grandfather, William Miller, and his siblings? Over the years several of them moved west to Oregon and Washington. William brought his family, including his son (my grandfather Charlie) to the Portland, Oregon area.

I found the families of William's brothers, John and George T., living in Eastern Washington and Idaho. William's twin brother, John, had served in the Civil War, and married Carrie Cline. They had one daughter who died as a child. John passed away in August 1923 in Moscow, Idaho. Their brother, George T., came west to Oregon and settled in Eastern Washington. He married Laura Webb and they raised their family in the Palouse region of Eastern Washington. He wrote a prize winning article about his early pioneering experiences. George T. died in 1937 and is buried in Oakesdale, Washington.

Two of William's sisters married and eventually came west to the Portland area where they lived out their lives. Mary Ann married George Fanning and raised her family in Oregon. She died in 1934 in Portland, Oregon. Ella (Ann Ellen) married Sylvester Chatterson and lived for a while in Arkansas and Virginia and finally Portland where she died in 1922.

Henry and Anna (the youngest children in the family) were raised by their mother, Margaret, in Michigan and Kansas. Anna married Hiram Cady and together they had four children. She died in Michigan in 1894. Henry married Wilhelmina Meyer and was a blacksmith in Emery², Michigan. His mother (my great-great-grandmother) lived her last years in peace with him in Emery and died there on December 26, 1907. Henry died in Emery in 1942.

Finally, on one of my trips to Eastern Washington, I visited the cemetery in Oakesdale where I knew that William's brother, George T., was buried. To my surprise, there in the middle of the family plot was a very tall gravestone bearing the name "George S. Miller - Father", and the death date January 19, 1903. So this is where the missing George had disappeared to!

It took many hours of work and a “village” of helpful volunteers to enable me to gather all of this information on my Miller ancestors. My mother, Marjorie (Miller) Collins, who was Charlie Miller's youngest daughter, always thought that my father's family was “better connected” than hers—after all they have Nathan Chapin who served in the Revolutionary War! Now, with the research I have collected, I know my mother's Millers are also descended from a Revolutionary War patriot: George Jacob Miller. He was born in 1733 in Germany, and was a Private 2nd Class in the 4th Company of Capt. John Moritz of the 2nd Battalion of the Northampton County Militia. The Company was recruited from the men of Whitehall Township, Pennsylvania. This battalion participated in the Battle of Brandywine under the command of Lt. Col. Stephen Balliet. On October 25, 2012, my Daughters of the American Revolution paperwork for our patriot George Jacob Miller was approved. I wish my mother was still here because I would love to be able to say to her, "and now Mom, you ARE 'connected' " and to have the chance to share the DAR experience together. I am sure we would have both enjoyed that.

² Emery was a small community located near the present day intersection of Earhart Road and Northfield Church Road in Northfield Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan. It had a post office designation on an 1895 Northfield Township atlas found in Standard Atlas of Washtenaw County Michigan: Including a Plat Book of the Villages, Cities, and Townships of the County, compiled and published by Geo. A. Ogle & Co., Chicago, 1895.

REV. FRIEDRICH SCHMID'S BAPTISMAL RECORDS, 1833 – 1847, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN
(Part Three)

Translated & transcribed by John H. Schmale and Rob Steward, 1986

The original records of Rev. Friedrich Schmid are currently housed and may be accessed in The Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Please note that the handwriting of Rev. Schmid is not easily deciphered, in part due to his penmanship. The records contain entries written in old German script and some using English script. In addition, the pages in his records are not numbered. It is our understanding that he kept notes as he traveled and then entered them into his record books when he returned home. This may explain that while the records are fairly complete there are some gaps or omissions.

We have maintained the spelling Rev. Schmid used in the case of names and places. Items enclosed in parentheses are usually comments or notes of the translators or indicate alternate spellings.

Rev. Schmid's Baptismal Records are in column format as follows:

(Left hand pages – a.) "Chronological Number" of the child for that particular year; Name of Child; Parents Names; Place; Birth Date.

(Right hand pages – b.) Baptismal Date and Place; Sponsors Names (sometimes marital status or relationship of the sponsors are listed).

Columns with no entry or missing information are indicated by three hyphens (---).

F. S. FINLEY TO HOST A SOCIAL GATHERING, WHITMORE LAKE, 1855

A Social Gathering at Whitmore Lake.—Our friend F. S. Finley Esq., is preparing for a large gathering at his place on Wednesday Sept. 5th. We are informed that he intends to make a grand affair of it. Those who go will enjoy an intellectual treat, for we are told that a number of literary gentlemen are engaged to address the gathering. Dinner will be served up at 1 o'clock, after which the addresses will be delivered. We hope there will be a large turn out. A day spent away from our business cares will contribute largely to our social comforts. Let us go then up to the "Villa of the Lakes" on Wednesday next.

PERSONAL INCOME PUBLISHED AUGUST 1866

INCOMES.—As there were some objections made last year to the plan of publishing the full report of all incomes, we have deemed it advisable this year not to report [to report] only those of $1,000 and upwards. The revenue tax on all the incomes in this, the 12th Division of the 3rd Collection district, which includes this city and town, Northfield, Webster, Dexter, Scio, Lima and Lodi reaches the sum of $23,000.

All incomes of $4,400 and under pay only 5 per cent [sic] to the Government, over that sum 10 per cent is charged. It will be seen by the following report that the Cornwells are the only ones who have made a sufficient amount to allow "Uncle Sam" to claim [sic] the 10 per cent "hug:"

POLL LISTS, DEXTER TOWNSHIP, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN, 1837

Transcribed by Nancy H. Krohn

Among the earliest extant poll lists for Washtenaw County are two 1837 lists for Dexter Township located in the Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan. Michigan achieved statehood on January 26, 1837 and these elections were held later that year. Voters elected representatives to Congress on August 21 & 22 and unspecified state positions on November 6 & 7.

For ease in searching, the lists are combined and alphabetically sorted by surname. The August list has 76 names and was conducted at the houses of Zera Walton and Parshal Howel; the November list has 110 and was conducted at the house of Z. L. Waldron [Walton]. The original lists are ordinarily numbered with given name followed by surname. No clerk is entered on either list. Spelling is as it appears on the original.

Code: Aug.xxx = Poll List 21 & 22 August 1837. ordinal number on original list

Nov.xxx = Poll List 6 & 7 November 1837. ordinal number on original list

Reports on Recent Meetings:

26 January 2014: "The Michigan Polar Bears" by Karen Jania, of the Bentley Historical Library, Ann Arbor. Ms. Jania gave a brief overview on how to access the "The Michigan Polar Bears" at <http://bentley.umich.edu/>. Click the header "Digital Curation home" under Digital Curation, then click "Exhibits" which is located near the top of the page. Look for "Michigan Exhibits" which lists the "Polar Bear Expedition Digital Collection."

Ms. Jania presented a brief history of the Michigan Polar Bear Expedition. In 1918 (near the end of World War I) the U.S. Army 85th Division, made up primarily of men from Michigan and Wisconsin, was sent to Russia. The unit became part of the broader efforts by the Allies and others to oppose the Bolshevik revolutionaries who had taken power in Russia. Fighting continued into 1919 when the Americans left Russia. The first reunion of the veterans occurred in 1922 in Detroit.

Ms. Jania explained how to access and search by browsing for the last name of a person to see what type of historical records might be available. Historical records could include photos and letters.

Class: "Using Chronologies and Timelines Placing your ancestor in Historical Context" by Sharon Brevoort. Sharon defined a timeline as a graphic representation of the passage of time showing major events, differentiating it from a chronology, which is a table or list of events arranged in order of occurrence.

She suggested this is especially useful with a new line you are researching, and is easy to take with you on a research trip. It will also show you where the gaps are in your research. You can include events both before the time of your ancestor (such as world events) and continue on after their death by showing dates in the children's lives.

She demonstrated the use of color with the Microsoft Excel program to highlight various branches of the family, or various types of events, such as using green for a Civil War event, and blue for dates associated with various laws.

She gave an example of a research spread sheet, where yellow was information to look for, green was evidence in hand, and blue was for items found on-line. Sharon also discussed software that includes timelines, such as Family Origins and Genelines.

23 February 2014: "Manuscript Maps of the American Revolution" by Brian Dunnigan of the Clements Library. The Clements Library is located next to the U of M President's house and was designed by Albert Kahn. It was originally opened in 1923 and is in the process of being remodeled over the next two years. The entire contents of the library have been moved to a location on Ellsworth Road and will be there until approximately October 2015.

The Library focuses on the history of the Americas. Visitors to the Library can look at the real thing, not electronic media.

William L. Clements spent most of his working years in Bay City. He amassed a remarkable collection of approximately 80,000 rare books including John Elliot's first Bible printed in the United States. Mr. Clements purchased papers of such well-known individuals as Lord Shelbourne and Thomas Gage. In addition, he had a substantial graphics collection.

Mr. Dunnigan highlighted the maps collection at the Library. This includes over 30,000 maps of America that cover the period 1400 to 1900. The maps can be classified into three categories: (1) topographical and intelligence maps, (2) maps that show architectural features, and (3) maps that deal with events. He showed examples of maps for each of the categories.

The Library also has over 500 collections of letters that span the Spanish American War, World War I and II. Information on specific holdings at the Clements Library is available at: www.clements.umich.edu.

Class "Breaking Down Brick Walls with the Genealogical Check List" by Katherine Willson. Katherine had many good suggestions for making sure you have covered all the bases in your research. She distributed a handout, and encouraged using it for each of your families. The areas listed are: birth, citizenship, marriage, death, probate, military, and census records with specific recommendations in each. Some of the more unusual suggestions included using Random Acts of Genealogical Kindness now on Facebook, and www.zabasearch.com for finding living people.

Katherine's handout is available under the Public Download area on our www.washtenawgenealogy.org website. Her website, socialmediagenealogy.com also has further information.

23 March 2014: "The Tuskegee Airmen" by Colonel Alexander Jefferson. Mr. Jefferson gave an energetic and informative talk about being one of the Tuskegee Airmen during World War II. As part of his presentation, he described racism in the military.

Mr. Jefferson gave a brief account of his childhood. He was born on November 21, 1921 in Detroit, Michigan and graduated from Cheney High School in 1938. He then went to Clark College in Atlanta, Georgia and graduated in 1942 with a Bachelor's degree in Chemistry and Biology.

During 1942, Mr. Jefferson was sworn into the United States Army Reserves as a volunteer but not accepted into flight school. He entered Howard University and again applied to the United States Army Air Force. In early 1943, he was accepted, so he left the university and reported for flight training at Tuskegee with the Army Air Force. Once he received his pilot's wings and officer's commission, he was assigned to the 32nd "Red Tail" Fighter group near Foggia, Italy. As part of the fighter group, he flew a P51 Mustang and it was his job to guard the bombing mission against enemy attack.

During World War II, he flew 18 missions safely, but during his 19th mission in 1944 he was shot down. He was captured and sent to a prisoner of war camp Stalag Luft III in Poland. Then he was moved to Stalag VII-A near Daedau. He emphasized that what we have heard about Dachau is entirely true. He returned to the United States in 1945.

He became a teacher and was promoted to assistant principal. He retired after 30 years of service. His book Red Tail Captured, Red Tail Free, published by Fordham Press contains drawing he did himself while in the prison camp.

Class: "Writing Genealogy Research into Narrative" by Stephanie Kadel Taras. Stephanie discussed putting your information into a form that will interest people.

She shared several examples of books she has produced from personal interviews, from information supplied by others, and from her own family's experiences. We looked closely at an example based on Eileen Found's family showing the sources for facts in the narrative.

She gave us a list of questions to consider as you are writing, such as: what voice, what to leave in or omit, using "maybe" or "perhaps" to add imagination, considering the context of the person's life which involves including what was happening in the world and area at the time the person was living. She encouraged all of us to write our own life story now! Her website is www.timepiecesbios.com
